An Account of the signal Escape of John Fraser.

JOHN FRASER, English in the Major of Lewis's Regiment, was shot through the Thigh by a Musket-Bullet at the Battle of ~~the~~ ~~and was taken Prisoner~~ after the Battle, at a little Distance from the Field, and carried to the House of Calender, where a Multitude of other wounded Prisoners lay under strong Guards. There he, and the other miserable Gentlemen (for most of them were Gentlemen) lay with their Wounds undressed, for two Days, in great Torment.
Upon the third Day he was carried out of Calender House, and with other eighteen of his Fellow-Prisoners into Carts, which they imagined were to carry them to Jarrow to be dressed of their Wounds. They were soon undecided; the Carts stop at a Park-Dyke at some Distance from the House, there they were dragged out of the Carts: The Soldiers who guarded them, under Command of three Officers, carried the Prisoners close to the Wall or Park-Dyke, along which they ranged them upon their Knees, and bid them prepare for Death. The Soldiers immediately drew up opposite to them — It is dreadful to proceed!
They levelled their Guns! They fired among them! Mr. Fraser fell with the rest, and did not doubt but he was shot. But as these Gen-

An Account of the signal Escape of JOHN FRASER.

JOHN FRASER, Ensign in the Master of Lovat's Regiment, was Shot through the Thigh by a Musket-Bullet, at the Battle of Culloden, and was taken Prisoner, after the Battle, at a little Distance from the Field, and carried to the House of Culloden, where a Multitude of other wounded Prisoners lay under strong Guards. There he, and the other miserable Gentlemen (for most of them were Gentlemen) lay with their Wounds undressed, for two Days, in great Torture. Upon the third Day he was carried out of Culloden House, and with other eighteen of his Fellow-Prisoners flung into Carts, which they imagined were to carry them to Inverness to be dressed of their Wounds: They were soon undeceived; the Carts stopt at a Park-Dyke at some Distance from the House, there they were dragged out of the Carts: The Soldiers who guarded them, under Command of three Officers, carried the Prisoners close to the Wall or Park-Dyke, along which they ranged them upon their Knees, and bid them prepare for Death. The Soldiers immediately drew up opposite to them — It is dreadful to proceed! They levelled their Guns! They fired among them! Mr. Fraser fell with the rest, and did not doubt but he was shot. But as those Gentlemen tlemen, who proceeded thus deliberately in cold Blood, had their Orders to do nothing by Halves, a Party of them went along and examined the Slaughter, and knocked out the Brains of such as were not quite dead; and, observing Signs of Life in Mr. Frazer, one of them, with the Butt of his Gun, struck him on the Face, dashed out one of his Eyes, and beat down his Nose flat and shattered to his Cheek, and left him for dead. The Slaughter thus finished, the Soldiers left the Field. In this miserable Situation, Lord B—d, riding out that Way with his Servant, espied some Life in Mr. Frazer, who by that Time had crawled to a little Distance from his dead Friends, and calling out to him asked what he was. Frazer told him he was an Officer in the Master of Lovat's Corps. Lord B—d offered him Money, saying he had been acquainted with the Master of Lovat, his Colonel. Mr. Frazer said he had no Use for Money, but begged him for God's Sake to cause his Servant carry him to a certain Mill and Cott-House, where he said he would be concealed and taken Care of. This young Lord had the Humanity to do so, and in this Place Mr. Frazer lay concealed, and by God's Providence recovered of his Wounds, and is now a living Witness of as unparalleled a Story, in all its Circumstances, as can be met with in the History of any Age.

Mr. Frazer is well known, and his Veracity attested by all the Inverness People.
